

International

Salem State University accepts admissions applications from students all over the world. We currently have over 500 students from 69 countries with the largest numbers coming from Brazil, China, Japan, Kenya, Korea, Morocco, Nepal and Vietnam. International students choose Salem State University because of the quality of our faculty, the multidisciplinary emphasis of our academic programs, the small class sizes, and our state of the art facilities. Salem State University's location close to the vibrant city of Boston is also a strong attraction for students from around the world.